

STATION 3

PROJECT GOALS

At the start of this study, the Advisory Committee established a framework to guide the development of the long range strategic plan that will be the product of this study. As the study has progressed and alternative solutions are being considered, the committee has begun to refine its focus on what the plan needs to address. These exhibits illustrate how these goals are evolving as the study continues.

The project goals are at the heart of the study, in that every alternative solution considered for incorporation into the plan will be evaluated for how it addresses or fits with these statements. The Committee would like to know what you think about these goals - do you agree with the direction these goals set? Should any be changed or expanded? Are there other goals that should be included?
